Everblooming Hybrid Tea Roses

Hybrid Tea roses will grow and thrive in all parts of the United States, and flower profusely, if adequate protection is given in severe winter weather. The Hybrid Teas are monthly bloomers, and unless you live in a very cold climate, your selection should be made up largely from these Hybrid Tea roses.

Avoid Buying Cheap Roses

Some Texas Dealers are offering "Two-Year Field Grown Roses" at cut prices. They do not tell you that these are grown over, rough stock, that will not please you nor your customer, regardless of how cheap they are offered. Buy only two-year clean smooth stock, properly graded, and your roses will be a joy and satisfaction to you.

Hybrid Perpetual Roses

This class is extremely hardy, and if you live in a part of the country where Hybrid Tea roses winter-kill, plant these H. P's. largely. They make sturdy, vigorous plants that produce more flowers than any other varieties. They need no protection, even in coldest climates. Some bloom monthly, and we have noted such varieties with a +.

Miscellaneous Specials

Below we list some items of which we can supply large quantities. This is especially well grown, with splendid well developed root system, and will please the most exacting customers.

CRAPE MYRTLE

Crape Myrtle may be planted much further north than is generally known. If it freezes back to the ground, it will come out and bloom the following summer with great beauty. Try some.

WATERMELON RED. This is a clear, beautiful red, without a trace of magenta. It is grown in a block to itself, and every bush is of the same delightful watermelon red color.

PINK. This is a clear bright pink.

LAVENDER. This is a pretty lavender and is often listed as purple, but there is no true purple Crape Myrtle.

WHITE. Lovely, feathery white flowers. Strong growing plants.

EVERBEARING TEXAS FIG

This is the most wonderful fig we have ever seen. The real truth about this fig sounds like a "fish story". It will stand more cold than any other variety. Even when it freezes back, it will come back following summer and produce good crop of figs as large as hen eggs, and we mean that many of the figs are that large. We have seen young plants put out as cuttings in April bear 18 to 24 figs within 60 days after planting. One grower near Arlington, Texas, sold $900.00 worth of figs from one acre during the summer 1937. It is really a wonder.

EUONYMUS JAPONICA

This is evergreen Euonymus that grows so well in the south, but is not hardy north, and we do not recommend planting farther north than Little Rock, Arkansas. Makes fine sheared hedge, or specimen plant.
